Thanks Madi. As we discussed we'll send you an email discussing the reasons for postponing completion of the Phase I sampling, and I'll check with our team and we'll get back to you with some proposed times for a call to discuss the schedule.

Subject: Schedule

Hi Mike,

Thank you for your call earlier this week letting me know of your proposed field schedule. I understand the logistical and health and safety concerns with continuing field work this winter and that you intend to pause field work after next week and anticipate reinitiating sampling in March, 2022. During our phone call we talked about setting a time to discuss the project schedule in the next couple of weeks and how to maintain the overarching schedule in light of the field work delay and also potential laboratory deliverable delays we've been experienced in other project areas (the laboratory delays are reported to be supply chain and staffing related). I look forward to that conversation, please let me know times that work for you.

I'll be out of the office next week and checking e-mail periodically; however, if you have a matter that requires timely attention, please call or text me. I'll be back in the office on the 27th.

Thank you,

Madi Novak, Remedial Project Manager
